

ALEXANDRIA, VA.

MONDAY EVENING, DEC. 12

FROM WASHINGTON

Messrs. W. A. Smoot and Edgar Warfield, of Alexandria, were here today, and with Congressman Carlin saw a number of statesmen and requested them to attend the annual banquet of Lee Camp at that city to be given on General Lee's birthday, January 19th.

Among the visitors in the Senate today was former Vice President Fairbanks who was warmly greeted by many of the senators and attaches.

Among the appointments sent to the Senate today by President Taft were the following to be postmasters in Virginia: Franklin Stearns, Glenallen; Howard T. Jenkins, East Radford; C. C. McAlexander, Salem.

Although a democrat, Chief Justice White has a decided trend toward republicanism. He is independent in thought and action. He supported the income tax, sustained the government's position in the famous Insular cases, but was in the minority against the government, in the Northern Securities case. He is an authority on federal powers and jurisdiction, as well as on admiralty law. He is 65 years of age and is a wealthy man. He owns large plantations in his native state of Louisiana, and married the widow of Mr. Linden Kent, of Alexandria, who bore her first marriage was Miss Gibson, a wealthy woman. He served in the Confederate army and was a U. S. senator from Louisiana when Mr. Cleveland appointed him as associated justice in 1894.

In the announcement that Associate Justice White had been chosen Chief Justice of the United States, many people here today see the future possibility of William Howard Taft yet accomplishing his long ambition to hold that title. White is 65 years old and is not in the best of health. He will have reached the time of possible retirement within five years. Taft's friends believe that in case of a vacancy in the chief justiceship, after Taft leaves the presidency, he would be the most formidable candidate. They contend that this is true whether the president at that time should be a democrat or republican. President Taft is now 53 years old and is in robust health. When White is seventy, Taft will be fifty-eight. If he should not serve more than a term in the White House, his friends now believe that he is almost certain to succeed to the chief justice ship.

The one weapon needed by the federal government to bring the sugar trust to trial for violation of the Sherman anti-trust law was today supplied by a decision rendered by the U. S. Court. In a decision reversing the decree of Circuit Judge Holt, the highest tribunal today holds that the statute of limitations did not operate to protect Gustav E. Kissel and Thomas B. Harned, two of the alleged conspirators in the closing of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refinery, the bankruptcy of Adolph Segal and the suicide of Frank Hippie, in Philadelphia four years ago.

Immediate recognition of the provision of government of Nicaragua headed by General Estrada is deemed advisable by Thomas C. Dawson, minister to Panama and especially designated to observe conditions in Nicaragua. Minister Dawson returned today from a several month's visit to the Central American Republic to make his report to the secretary of state.

The members of the Texas delegation in the House this afternoon gave unanimous vote of support to Champ Clark for speaker of the next Congress. This is the first open action of any delegation upon the speakership question.

The Standard Oil Company of New York will have to pay its fine of $21,000 for accepting rebates on oil shipments from Olean to New England points, as a result of the action of the Supreme Court of the United States today in refusing to review the decision of the lower courts.

Does the law of the District of Columbia countenance a suit by a wife against her husband for assault and battery? The U. S. Supreme Court today decided this question negatively, in a suit of this nature brought by Jessie E. Thompson against her husband, Charles N., for $10,000 damages as result of alleged assaults during 1907, while the couple were married and living together.

An omnibus bill carrying $1,700 claims amounting to $2,040,946 was taken up for consideration in the Senate today. The claims are mostly for losses sustained in the civil war and for pay for overtime work performed in excess of the 8-hour day in the government service.

Legal Primary Elections.

[Special Dispatch to the Gazette.]

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—Attorney General Samuel W. Williams today presented to Judge Keith of the Supreme Court a petition for a writ of error in the celebrated Norfolk election case. Judge Williams takes grounds that the act under which indictments were returned and later quashed by Judge Hankle of the Norfolk Corporation Court is valid; the trial court to the contrary notwithstanding. He cites the case from this city in which James W. Wise was convicted and punished. He contends that the cases are identical and that the Supreme Court has held the law valid in refusing to grant a writ of error in the Jackson Wise case.

Millionaire Mellon Acquitted.

Pittsburg, Dec. 12.—T. A. Mellon, millionaire member of the board of directors of the Mellon National Bank was acquitted in Criminal Court today, of charges brought by Mrs. Elizabeth Hurst, a young widow employed in the Mellon household. Although Mellon is one of Pittsburgh's most prominent business men and such a case would ordinarily attract a large crowd of gossip hunters, the court room was strangely deserted during the trial. This was owing to the complete suppression of the facts by the local newspapers. Charges of assault and battery in connection with the case are pending against W. H. Tanney, a private detective, who Mrs. Hurst alleged was employed by the millionaire to forcibly eject her from the house.

Deaths of Editors.

Springfield, Mass., Dec. 12.—Charles J. Bellamy, owner and editor of the Springfield Daily News, died early today of Bright's disease. He was a brother of Edward Bellamy, author of "Looking Backward."

Buffalo, N. Y., Dec. 12.—William McInosh, for 30 years managing editor of the Buffalo Evening News, died early today from internal hemorrhages.

Quadruple Murder in Kansas.

Kansas City, Dec. 12.—Police Chief Zimmer returned early today from the scene of the quadruple murder on a farm near Olathe, Kans., with John Eagler, a farm hand, in his custody. Zimmer said Eagler was suspected of the crime.

FIRE IN TAMMANY HALL.

New York, Dec. 12.—Historic Tammany Hall, on Fourteenth street, just west of Third avenue, was badly damaged by fire early today. For some time the structure was in grave danger, but the firemen by hard work managed to confine the flames to the top floor. The Olympic Theatre, which was managed for many years by the late "Tony" Pastor, and which was lately the birthplace of "refined vaudeville," was damaged by water. The theatre is a part of the original structure of Tammany Hall, but it is separated from the other by a new fire wall, and to this is due the fact that the firemen were able to control the blaze before it swept the block.

Intense cold weather and snow covered streets interfered with the firemen getting to the scene and three alarms were turned in by Chief Croker to get sufficient men to protect the ancient Academy of Music, which is in the same block. Chief Croker, who was on the scene within five minutes after the fire was discovered, personally carried out the big pictures of his uncle, Richard Croker, and of John Kelly, former "bosses" of Tammany, which were in the offices of the Tammany Society.

The fire started on the third floor in the general assembly room. A night watchman and a scrub woman on duty tried to put out the fire instead of turning in an alarm, and this gave the fire opportunity to get strong headway before the firemen reached the scene. Hurried calls were sent out for Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany, to learn what books should be saved. The police carried the personal furniture of Charles F. Murphy's sanctum into the street and put a strong guard over it.

It was said that the records of Tammany, which are invaluable from a historic standpoint, were in a fireproof safe and are all right.

The assembly hall is used for dances, and there was a big dance there last night. Chief Croker said that in his opinion the fire was caused by a cigarette carelessly thrown into a pile of rubbish or a piece of paper thrown back of a radiator. The entire top floor of the hall was gutted, but below stairs the damage is entirely by water. The chief estimated the loss at about $50,000.

Charles F. Murphy, chief of Tammany, was routed from his bed by a telephone message that the hall was afire. He asked: "Is Chief Croker on the ground?"

Told that he was, the Tammany leader said: "Well, I guess I will wait and eat my breakfast before I go around to the hall."

The building is in the high pressure district, and to that fact is due the saving of most of it.

The society of Tammany was organized in 1789. The present building was erected in 1867 when Tammany moved up town.

Franklin street, where it had been located since 1811. The democratic national convention of 1868 was held in the hall which was burned out today.

The New Chief Justice.

New York, Dec. 12.—Wall street views the selection of Associate Justice White to be Chief Justice of the United States with gratification. Discussing the subject today, the New York News Bureau, organ of "The Street" says, under a Washington date line:

"The selection of Justice White should be regarded with satisfaction by all conservatives. Among reasons for this conclusion, two stand out prominently."

"First—Because he possesses a great legal mind, a profound knowledge of constitutional law, a very clear and incisive judgment, together with a knowledge of precedent and decisions of the court extending over many years."

"Second—Because his bent of mind is such as to make him an unbiased judge, unmoved by popular clamor when it comes to deciding upon large questions involving individual liberty and rights to property."

"It is not wise to try to fix a justice's possible attitude on future cases by his past decisions, but it is possible to size up a justice's general mental attitude."

"On this basis, Justice White is regarded by the bar as possessing one of the greatest legal minds of this generation. Rights of property and the rights of the humblest individual will alike receive fair treatment in the decision reached by his clear brain."

Rescuing Passengers and Crew.

Valdez, Alaska, Dec. 12.—The steamer June and Dora and the United States government launch Fort Liscum reached the wreck of the Alaska steamer ship's company's steamer Olympia shortly before 6 a. m. today and immediately began taking off the fifty-two passengers and fifty-four members of the vessel's crew. A brief wireless message from the vessels this morning made the announcement but failed to give any details. The passengers will be brought here.

The Olympia left Cordova Saturday night for Valdez and Seward, in a fifty-mile gale. Early Sunday morning wireless operator Hayes sent out a distress message, asking for instant help and saying the vessel had gone ashore off Bligh Island and threatened to break up. Until 10 a. m. Sunday, Hayes continued to send reports of the Olympia's peril and continually pleaded for help.

His messages indicated that the boat was being ground to pieces on the rocks, and that unless help arrived quickly the crew and passengers would perish. The belief here is that the Olympia's machinery broke down during the gale, and the wind drove her, helpless, on the rocks.

Abandoned Idea of Coaling Station.

Havana, Dec. 12.—The United States according to announcement made today, has abandoned the idea of a coaling station at Bahia Honda, and has traded the 6,000 acre tract that it owned there for a more extensive tract adjoining Guantanamo. The latter tract was the property of Col. Jane, the fugitive revolutionist who headed the abortive uprising in Santiago a few months ago. Jane returned today from New York to surrender and to close the deal for the transfer of his land to the United States.

DIED.

At the residence of his brother, J. Frank Dwyer, 1024 Prince street, Mrs. Dwyer, widow of J. W. Dwyer, died at 10 o'clock today. She was 78 years of age. The funeral will take place from the residence of her brother, 1024 Prince street, Tuesday at 10 o'clock. Friends invited. Washington and Saratoga Springs papers please copy.

VIRGINIA NEWS.

T. Marion Bantz, a prominent business man and bank director, of Winchester, died, Saturday of Bright's disease, 75, aged years.

Assistant Attorney General William E. Bibb died at his residence in Richmond on Saturday aged 65, as the result of injuries received when he fell downstairs at his home some days ago, and a later surgical operation for an other trouble.

Lying on the floor of the bank's vault with a bullet in his brain, S. H. Cruikshank, aged 28, cashier of the First National Bank at Emporia, was found dead Saturday afternoon. It is believed he fired the shot while one of the bank's employees was at lunch. His accounts are said to be straight, and no cause is assigned for the deed.

Dr. Junius F. Lynch, of Norfolk, colonel and surgeon-general of the Virginia volunteers, states that just as soon as the money to secure the necessary supplies is made available the work of vaccinating the militia-men for typhoid fever will be taken up in that city. Colonel Lynch is very much interested with the result attained through vaccination for typhoid and has made a thorough study of it, with the result that at a conference of the commanding officers of the Virginia militia, held recently in Richmond, he strongly urged that the men be vaccinated. Colonel Lynch had the operation performed upon himself.

Colonel Lynch is making an effort to have the State Militia Board secure serum from the war department, at Washington, and to have the money necessary to pay for it taken out of the state militia appropriation.

MUTINY SUPPRESSED.

Dispatches from Rio Janeiro state that the government troops are again in control of the garrison of Cobra Island, and the second mutiny of the Brazilian naval forces has ended with a heavy casualty list, but in a way that probably will prevent further risings for some time to come.

The mutineers in the garrison, who composed a battalion of the marine corps, numbered about 600 men. Of these 200 were either killed or wounded.

The others were taken prisoners by the destroyers while attempting to escape from the island during the night.

Two hundred citizens were either killed or wounded while watching the bombardment from the streets of the city or along the waterfront. Many government buildings were damaged, including the treasury, the foreign office and fine departments of public works and telegraphs, all handsome structures.

Two land batteries, two warships and several destroyers took part in the bombardment of the island Saturday, and twice during the engagement an armistice was allowed for the removal of the dead and wounded. Firing ceased entirely late in the evening, but no actual surrender of the rebels occurred, the commanders of the government forces deeming it the wiser course to await the coming of day. The destroyers, however, were stationed within easy range of the island so as to prevent any attempt by the mutineers to escape. Towards midnight several boats put out and men could be seen swimming, evidently with the intention of reaching the mainland. The destroyers bore down on them and made them prisoners.

Martial law has been declared for 30 days in the federal district and Nicaragua.

Yesterday the Chamber of Deputies met to discuss the subject of a special session. The government believes it has the situation well in hand, for aside from a few malcontents the army and navy are loyal. A strict censorship is maintained, but conditions within in the city yesterday were normal.

KEEZEEL REMOVED.

Charles M. Keezeel has been removed from his office as postmaster of Harrisonburg, Va., and the name of Wilmer L. Dechert, a widely known insurance man and a wealthy citizen of the town, is already before the authorities in Washington as his successor. It is regarded as an assured fact that Mr. Dechert will be the next postmaster. It is reported that Randolph Heneberger will succeed Paul Dutrow as assistant postmaster.

This appears to be one of the inevitable results of the political revolution which has swept over the western portion of the country a few days ago. Many people have been killed or injured and the low lying districts are flooded everywhere. The lower part of Seville is submerged, and it is feared that the entire city will be under water shortly. A railroad bridge at Alcala has been destroyed and numerous villages in that region are in a critical situation. Reports have reached Madrid of shipwrecks along the coast.

MOB BAFLED.

The bravery and straight shooting of Jailer A. Phelps prevented a mob of looters from breaking into the jail at Columbus, Ga., about 2 o'clock yesterday morning and taking Henry Taylor, a negro, who is held there for an attack on a white girl. As a result of the assault by the mob, one man is dead and three are wounded. The dead man is Irvin Kent, who was a member of the mob, but about a hundred strong, attacked the jail.

Phelps, however, stood his ground, warned the mob to stop, but the mob opened fire, shooting down Kent, and two other members of the mob. The would-be looters began to flee, and as they fled they fired at the jailer, one bullet entering his chest and inflicting a serious wound. The police reserves were called out and a dozen men, supposed to be members of the mob, were arrested. This is the second time in years that Jailer Phelps has baffled a mob that was trying to get into the jail.

Two Men Killed.

Stanhope, N. J., Dec. 12.—Two members of a "powder gang," in the Roosevelt tunnel on the Flicker section of the Lackawanna cut-off, between here and Andover were instantly killed today by premature explosion of a blast they were preparing. Two other members of the gang were injured, but not fatally.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

In the House of Representatives on Saturday the river and harbor bill was passed with only one amendment, and that to correct a clerical error.

Vice President Edward Van Wyck Rossiter, of the New York Central lines, died at his home at Flushing, L. I., yesterday of a complication of diseases, after an illness of some months. His life had been despaired of for several days and his wife and family were at the bedside.

The executive committee of the Southern Commercial Congress will meet in Washington, December 14th, to work out the programme for the great commercial rally to be held in Atlanta in March, 1911. The executive committee and representatives of Governor Brown, of Georgia, and the Chamber of Commerce of Atlanta, will be received by President Taft the same day.

An explosion of a coal oil lamp Saturday night at the home of Max Windler at Selbyville, Va., near Elkins, set the house on fire, destroying the home and all its contents and cremating one son, John, aged 13, and a daughter, Pearl, aged 11. Mr. Windler was horribly burned in his attempt to rescue his children. Only parts of their charred remains were found.

Mrs. Katrina Trask, widow of Spencer Trask, the Saratoga banker, who was killed in a week on the New York Central Railroad at Croton, December 31, 1909, and for whose death the railroad has made a settlement with the estate for $60,000 yesterday announced her intention of dedicating her share of the settlement, $32,000, to the work in which Mr. Trask was deeply interested. The money will be turned over to the church and the village in which Mrs. Trask now resides.

Falling in the snow on Pennsylvania avenue, Washington, last night, Miss L. Cordelia Mayo, fifty years old, prominent in social, musical and athletic circles in Washington, died a few minutes later while being removed to Emergency Hospital in an ambulance. Death was due to apoplexy. She was unconscious when pedestrians ran to her aid, and died without regaining her senses.

WAR CLAIMS.

Senator Burnham, chairman of the Senate committee on claims, has given notice that he will call up in the Senate today the omnibus claims bill. The total amount asked for is $2,040,946.

Among the Virginia beneficiaries on war claims in the bill are, Edward Anderson, late of Alexandria county, $8,150; Joshua Sherwood, heir of Lewis A. Sherwood, late of Alexandria county, $4,000; John R. Taylor and Charles F. Taylor, of Fairfax county, $4,323; Joseph Williams, now of Washington, formerly of Fredericksburg, $281; trustees of Mount Zion School Baptist Church, near Aldie, Loudoun county, $275; trustees of the Alfred street Baptist church, of Alexandria, $300; trustees of the First Baptist church, $3,900; trustees of the Second Presbyterian church of Alexandria, $4,800; trustees of the Washington street Methodist Episcopal Church South, of Alexandria, $4,600; trustees of the Mount Olivet Methodist Protestant church, of Alexandria, $3,400; trustees of Grace Episcopal church, of Berryville, $560; vestry of Zion Protestant Episcopal church, of Fairfax, $1,200; trustees of Andrew Chapel, of Methodist Episcopal Church South, of Fairfax county, $450; trustees of Jerusalem Baptist church and the vestry of the Zion Protestant Episcopal church, of Fairfax County, $1,500; trustees of the Methodist Episcopal church, of Falls Church, $1,600; trustees of Lebanon Union church, of Lincoln, Fairfax county, $350.

The Italian Riviera has suffered greatly from the recent storms, and the weather threatens even more loss. Miles of cultivated flowers have been devastated. San Remo is flooded, and many of the residents of that city were compelled during the night to escape from windows by means of ropeladders, their houses being surrounded with water. Several persons have been drowned. The railway between Bordighera and the French frontier has been interrupted on account of wash-outs. All the rivers in the north are at the flood point. The Tiber is also rising fast. A hill on its banks on which the village of Pentenue stands is being rapidly undermined and its collapse is threatened.

Spain has been visited by a second cyclone, even more severe than that which swept over the western portion of the country a few days ago. Many people have been killed or injured and the low lying districts are flooded everywhere. The lower part of Seville is submerged, and it is feared that the entire city will be under water shortly. A railroad bridge at Alcala has been destroyed and numerous villages in that region are in a critical situation. Reports have reached Madrid of shipwrecks along the coast.

Burned to Death.

New York, Dec. 12.—Mrs. E. A. Hilliard, a wealthy widow of Milwaukee, was burned to death in her room in the Hotel Bristol, early today. Although the fire raged through every part of Mrs. Hilliard's room, it did not reach the hall, and a panic among the guests was averted. Mrs. Hilliard, who was 76 years old, had told the managers she would use neither gas nor electricity, but wanted a candle to light her room. It is believed the candle set fire to the bedclothes.

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—Fighting frantically with buckets while standing idle across a creek which they were unable to cross, two fire engines were unable to render assistance and firemen were as a result unable to save three houses here today. In one of the houses Isaac Banks lost his life. The old man was asleep and all efforts to rescue him were vain.

PERISHING SURROUNDED BY GOLD.

George Powers, of Memphis, who started for the Alaskan gold fields a year ago and had been given up for dead, has discovered rich veins of the precious ore, according to a note discovered in a remarkable manner, by Fred Mordant, a hunter of Webb, Neb. Mordant has written to the authorities in Memphis stating that he killed a goose in a hunt on the Missouri river recently, and that a note, under date of July 10, tied around its neck with a tiny copper wire, tells of Powers' illness. The unfortunate man wrote that he had immense wealth around him, but was too ill to travel farther.

"Winter is coming," wrote Powers, "and I know I cannot survive it, but I want to tell my secret to somebody so they will come and reap the spoils."

Edward G. Barrow was this afternoon in New York elected president of the Eastern Baseball League, at a meeting of the league officials.

Will the Country Have an Alien Race?

Richmond, Va., Dec. 12.—This country is destined to have an alien race in its midst, is the opinion of leading Richmond lawyers, unless a decision rendered by Judge Goff in the federal court here is sustained by the higher courts.

Judge Goff held in effect that clauses which appear in many deeds precluding the conveyance of property to the negroes invalid, the decision being rendered in the case of the People's Pleasure Park Company against John Forsham, of Philadelphia.

It is declared that the clause against the eventual sale of property to negroes will become general, and that if negroes are not permitted to buy property, their present holdings will eventually revert to the white people.

The case will undoubtedly be taken to the United States Supreme Court for settlement.

Result of English Election.

London, Dec. 12. The last count of the election returns to date, gives the liberal-labourite combination a further gain of one seat, reducing the conservative net gain to two out of 510 seats decided.

Late this afternoon the strength of the various parties was as follows: Conservatives 227; liberal labour 220; Irish nationalists 57; independent nationalists (O'Brienites), 6.

The Trial of Miss Le Blanc.

Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 12.—The defense in the case of Hattie Le Blanc, charged with the murder of Clarence E. Glover, suffered a disappointment, when it was announced that Frank Delorey, brother in law of Mrs. Glover, would not be put on the stand. He was considered such an important witness that the defense had him arrested and placed in jail for safe keeping.

Mrs. Glover repeated her statement that she did not go near the laundry, where the killing occurred, between 8 and 9 o'clock on the night of November 20, when Glover was killed. She said she did not take a car ride that night and denied ever seeing Nellie Walsh, a cook in the family of Judge Bond, who testified today that she saw Mrs. Glover at 8 o'clock on the night of November 20 near the railway station.

Mrs. Glover denied that she had ever made statements that she married Glover because her property was in his home and she was determined to get it back.

Charged With Shooting Her Husband.

Philadelphia, Dec. 12.—Mrs. Marie Leaker Clapp, wife of Herbert Mason Clapp, a wealthy clubman, was placed under arrest today charged with the shooting of her husband, who is dying in St. Joseph's Hospital, with a bullet in his head. The wife's statement to the police was that her husband had attempted to commit suicide. In an ante-mortem statement by the dying man, however, he asserts that Mrs. Clapp did the shooting. Clapp is a grandson of Mason "the blacking" king. The tragedy follows a series of quarrels between the couple.

The Brazilian Mutiny.

London, Dec. 12.—The Brazilian minister received a cable dispatch today from Rio Janeiro stating that loyal government troops were now in complete possession of Cobras Island, where a two days' mutiny of sailors was started Friday night and continued until Sunday afternoon.

Nearly 500 of the mutineers were arrested and 150 either killed or wounded. After their arrest, many of the mutineers made a concerted effort to escape, but were recaptured after a fight in which a dozen were slain.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 12.—Order once more prevails on Cobras Island, where the mutinous troops are under arrest.

The number of casualties reported among the citizens as a result of the bombardment of the city, was greatly exaggerated. The deaths on shore will not exceed ten, with possibly a score injured. The rebel dead and injured, however, is still placed at 200.

The scoutship Rio do Sul, the crew of which is believed to have instigated the revolt, was sent to Santos today, under a new list of officers.

The cruiser Saracoe was also sent to another port. Repairs have already started on the public buildings, including the municipal theatre, ministry of public works, maritime, police and telegraph buildings, damaged in the fire of the mutineers.

Presidential Appointments.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 12.—The president today formally nominated Associate Justice Edward Douglas White, democrat, of Louisiana, to be chief justice of the United States, sending the name of White and the following additional judicial nominations to the Senate for confirmation:

Judge Willis Van Devanter, republican, now U. S. Circuit Judge in the Eighth Circuit, to be associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Judge Joseph Rucker Lamar, democrat of Georgia, former associate justice of the Supreme Court of Georgia, leading member of the southern bar, to be associate justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The following nominations of new members of the Interstate Commerce Commission—one to succeed Knapp, and another to take the place of Commissioner Cockrell, whose term expires on December 31—were also sent in:

Balthazar H. Meyer, of Wisconsin, economist and former member of the Wisconsin Railway Commission.

C. C. McCord, of Kentucky, now president of the National Association of Railroad Commissioners and member of the Kentucky railroad commission.

The following will be the five members of the Commerce Court:

Martin A. Knapp, now chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Robert W. Archbald, now U. S. district judge for the Middle district of Pennsylvania.

William H. Hunt, now judge of the Court of Customs Appeals.

Julian W. Mack, now judge of the Appellate Circuit Court of the First Illinois district.
